introduction by dermot o'neill

Carlow is a treasure trove of wonderful gardens to visit. Some of the best in the country are here and the county also contains what is regarded as the best garden centre in the country – Arboretum Home and Garden Heaven, which has been continuously awarded a coveted five stars in the Bord Bia Garden Centre of the Year Awards.

This brochure will give you an insight into the special places you can visit in County Carlow. What makes this garden trail so unique is the range of large and small gardens which are lovingly cared for, with ideas to take home at every turn, and the amazing plants, shrubs and trees that grow here.

Altamont is one of the jewels of the Carlow Garden Trail. The stunning borders in the walled garden are an inspiration to all who see them. Other inspiring locations to visit are the Delta Sensory Gardens, with 16 different gardens laid out by leading designers and the recently renovated walled gardens at Duckett's Grove.

You do not have to be a gardener to get pleasure and enjoyment from the Carlow Garden Trail. There is something for everyone, young and old.
